MEMORIES THAT WE'LL CLING TO WHEN WE GO ON TO

SILENT PRAYERS OF BLISSFUL FEELING LET

THE FRIENDSHIPS WE HAVE MADE HERE WILL BE EVER IN

NOW WE REACH THE TIME OF PARTING

THINK BACK ON OUR SCHOOL DAYS WHILE OUR HEART

A hand-drawn musical score on a page with a large, dark illustration of a trumpet on the right side. The score consists of seven staves of music, each with a corresponding line of lyrics. The music is written in a simple, hand-drawn style. The lyrics are: "LET US SING OUR LOVING PRAISE TO THE SEPARATE WAYS AS LINK THROUGH WE'RE APART FAR OUR HEARTS SEND WE BID A FOND GOOD-BYE WE'LL SWELL WITH PRIDE". The trumpet illustration is a large, dark, stylized drawing that dominates the right half of the page. It has a flared bell at the top and a narrow stem at the bottom. The page is yellowed with age and has some stains.

LET US SING OUR LOVING PRAISE TO THE

SEPARATE WAYS

REASURES accumulated:

HONOR accruing from scholarships, sports and service.

SERIENESS developing from sincerity of purpose.

LOYALTY emanating from devoted friendships.

INTELLECTUAL growth stemming from the challenge to learn.

OPPORTUNITY evolving from language, science, business and art.

NEOSTALGIA welling for the years that will be a memory.

Our class has been first to complete four years in the new building and we have accumulated our treasures. We may not remember each of our classmates, but we shall remember 1963—The Year of the Lion.

editorial

In our tomorrows, when we are forced to confront situations alone, we shall have decisions arduous to make and more arduous to execute. We shall experience difficulties and disappointments. Only steadfast pursuit of purpose can strengthen us to meet our future with optimism. Only with persistence can we hope to create a better world.

PERSISTENCE—to help us to try again when we have failed.

PERSISTENCE—to enable us to adhere to our convictions when they are challenged.

PERSISTENCE—to urge us to continue the struggle for peace for our country and the world.

PERSISTENCE—to encourage us to so live that we shall, in some small way, make a contribution to the betterment of mankind.

PERSISTENCE—

We have attempted to capture all the fun-filled memories of the past school years: everything from football, basketball, baseball and other athletic endeavors to dances, clubs, plays, and the like. By no means forgotten are the everyday study halls, classes and assemblies. Each has played an important part in our lives and is recorded here.

activities

The Chelmsford High School Student Council once again completed a successful year under the capable leadership of Arthur House.

Among the many undertakings of the Student Council have been the operation of the refreshment stand during the football games, adopting a needy family at Christmas time and the sponsoring of major awards for athletes. Many other traditional projects were successfully undertaken: the talent show, annual visitation to radio station WOTW to voice their opinions on current matters, and the February Valentine Dance.

Each year the Student Council undertakes new activities. This year was no exception. The Student Council contributed $250 to a much-needed whirlpool bath which aids the healing of injuries received by our athletes. Another first was the sponsoring of a loudspeaker system for home football games. The Student Council hopes to purchase its own public address system next year.

One of the high school's major problems was solved by the establishing of a hat and coat check system during social events.

This year the Council members thought it wise to inform the student body of just what the Student Council is, and its accomplishments. As a result a television program was scheduled giving the viewers an inside picture of the Student Council. A bulletin board was maintained by the Student Council featuring a boy and girl student of the week.

The Student Council ventured away from the school, attending two Eastern Massachusetts Conferences, one in November and one in May. At the November conference Mary Ellen Goodwill gave her report of her trip to California representing the Student Councils of Eastern Massachusetts. In May a spirited and determined group of council members fought hard in support of Richard Molloy, our Vice President, for the office of President of the Massachusetts Association of Student Councils.

A highly successful tea in honor of the faculty, was sponsored by the Student Council. Plans were made to sponsor a Greater-Lowell Student Council Conference, which will be fulfilled next year.

Perhaps the Student Council's most memorable project was and will always be its traditional outing for its members and their guests. Each year this event becomes more and more popular as a reward for the hard work done by the members of the Student Council.

The Chelmsford High School Student Council has continued in its objective and purpose of bettering Chelmsford High School and its student body.

national honor society

Miss F. Christine Booth
Advisor

With Miss F. Christine Booth as their advisor, the National Honor Society conducted a highly-successful schedule of events this year. In the fall, new teachers were welcomed with a faculty tea given by the NHS members. This tea was so enjoyed by both the guests and their hosts, that NHS members were eager to assist the English department in sponsoring a tea in honor of Miss Ernestine Lancia, our visiting teacher from Brazil. At business meetings, changes were affected in the constitution, and plans for such long-range projects as a foreign student exchange program were discussed. It was arranged that the induction ceremony for new members be held at an earlier date than previously so that new members could attend more meetings with the seniors.

Senior members offered their services as ushers for open house and new junior members in turn ushered at graduation. We hope that the new members will continue to adhere to the high standards of scholarship, character, leadership and service that this year's members have upheld.

With its many new members, we are sure that the club will continue to be active in town affairs and in serving the school.

dramatic club

The activities of the Dramatic Club, which is under the direction of Miss Martha Kinneen, this year consisted of attendance at professional and amateur productions, as well as the presentation of a three-act play. At the time the yearbook went to press, the club was deciding to which play in Boston it would go. In the earlier part of the school year, thirty members were impressed by the remarkably mature acting which they viewed in Weston High School's Medea. Although this production was skillfully handled, from a technical viewpoint, it was the acting—both voice and gesture—which awed the Dramatics Club delegation.

The advisors and another student representation also attended Thornton Wilder's "Skin of Our Teeth" at Nashua High School. This dramatic commentary on man's perseverance despite repeated world-shaking catastrophies was a change of pace compared to the classical Medea.

The club undertook a difficult task, the presentation of Marcel Maurette's Anastasia, for its spring production. About forty students labored back-stage, reupholstered chairs with red taffeta and embellished the bleak white flats with rococo designs; the costume committee pieced together outfits and begged tuxedos; the make-up committee experimented with spirit gum and crepe hair; the lighting crew tried various gells and practiced producing the correct lighting effects; and the cast rehearsed for many long, tedious hours.

Diana Strobel, as the amnesiac would-be tsarina, Anastasia; Peter McHugh as the machiavellian opportunist, Bounine; Judith Sidebottom as the tart aristocratic Dowager Empress; James Gravelle as the flamboyant artist, Petrovin; and Thomas Todd as the comical worry wart, Chernov, gave memorable performances, as did Frank Blecharczyk, Florence Osebold, Philip Jones, Mary Armstrong, Thomas Perkins, Richard Bir, James Craig, Edith Ruckman and Ruth Monahan.

Perhaps the most rewarding experiences in producing this play were those of all extra-curricular activities: the pleasures derived from the cooperate efforts of students and teachers as both—working together—strove to achieve a common goal.

forensic unit

Know an argumentative student who is always first to volunteer in a debate? Probably he is a member of our debating club, the Forensic Unit.

Through the leadership of their advisor, Mr. John Drinkwater, this spirited group has adopted a standard of clear, logical thinking in a spirit of open-mindedness.

The Captains—Douglas Lawson, negative, and Richard La France, affirmative—headed the debaters: Stan Norkunas, Peter Thorstansen, Ralph House, Kathy Tevlin, John Berge, Lynda Palmer, Scott Adams and Lee Ann Rickard.

Their talents were matched at Acton-Boxboro, Westford and Melrose where the topics: That the U.S. Should Adopt a Policy of Reciprocal Free Trade With All Non-Communist Nations and That the U.S. Should Promote a Common Market in the Western Hemisphere were resolved. These were all anti-climaxes, however, to the North Eastern Conference in which they defended their championship of last year. We commend the members of our Forensic Unit for their active year.

This year, something new has been added at C.H.S. The "Lion's Roar" has changed its format from that of a school newspaper to that of a school literary magazine. With its new style face and format, came a new name, "Fresojusen."

The purpose of the literary magazine is to provide a means of giving recognition to those students who are literarily and artistically gifted and also to provide a means whereby students may express their feelings and ideas through prose, poetry, or art.

The staff is not working for quantity, either in amount of material or in number of issues, but rather for quality, in the individual articles and in the over-all magazine. To present the best material available in the best possible manner is the aim of the entire staff.

science club

With enthusiastic student support for the Science Club, the members worked throughout the year toward their chief goal—the annual science fair. Under the experienced leadership of Mr. George Simonian, the forty-five members developed exhibits ranging from biological experiments with guinea pigs, mice, euglena, algae and the like, to chemical and physical ones explaining atomic, electrical and other scientific theories through charts and graphs, real or plastic models, and actual workable apparatus—standard or original design.

Because the science fair is not compulsory, but extra curricular, the success of the fair depends upon the willingness of the Science Club members to work . . . and work. Preparing an exhibit means many hours of labor, many trials and errors, many discouragements along with the few successes, many project changes. Just before the fair, some project may fail—"This just did not work out."

Next year, the membership of the Science Club will not have changed except for the loss of its seniors, whose places will soon be taken by perhaps the world's next Curie, Einstein or Newton.

photography club

The Photography Club, one of Chelmsford High School's fastest-moving activities, is rapidly increasing in success and popularity. Under the expert guidance of Mr. Robert C. Andrews, its faculty advisor, and its officers, Douglas French and Richard Greenwood, the Photography Club is making remarkable headway in all fields of picture-taking.

So far this year, the Photography Club has acquainted members with darkroom procedures and with the correct way to take, as well as to develop, pictures.

At meetings, the members review the photographs that they have taken and try to improve those that need correction. Each month a new assignment is given and, if necessary, the members receive help in starting their assignments.

At present, the club members are anxiously looking forward to their forthcoming trip to a photographic plant in Fitchburg, Mass.

The Photography Club has done exceedingly well in portraiture, sport and action shots, candid for the yearbook and in scenery and still life. In the library, photographs taken by the members are exhibited, and examples of the many different subjects are shown.

radio club

Once again the Chelmsford High Amateur Radio Club has had a successful year. The highlight of the year was the annual radio auction, with all members working hard toward its success. Electronic equipment was auctioned, refreshments were sold, and awards were presented to many of the members for their outstanding projects. As a result, the auction proved to be a financial success and plans for next year's auction have been initiated.

Another project of the Radio Club is the acquisition of electronic equipment of its own so that the members will be able to operate a Chelmsford High School station and work with other amateurs around the world.

Much of the Radio Club's success can be traced to its capable advisor, Mr. Paul Murphy, and its president, Robert Hulick.

Weekly, all members meet with Miss Cook, discuss the current school activities, and receive their writing assignments. After the material has been collected, written, checked and typed, it is sent to the Lowell Sun and Chelmsford Newsweekly for publication.

The purpose of the Press Club is to give its members an opportunity not only to express their thoughts more clearly and effectively, but also to develop good public relations between the town of Chelmsford and its high school.

chelmsford high school store

The Chelmsford High School Store is located on the second floor, across from the Library, at a convenient spot for all. On sale every morning from 7:40 to 8:00 are the regular school supplies, such as Chelmsford High School bookcovers, stationery, rulers and spiral and binder notebooks. Attractively displayed in the exhibit case near the store are novelties, which include regulation white sweatshirts with C.H.S. insignia, maroon sweatshirts with C.H.S. insignia also, pillows, booster banners, shakers and stuffed animals to autograph. During the football and basketball seasons, some fast-selling items were football and basketball pins.

An attractive item added this year to the school store inventory, is our own Chelmsford High School "tote" bag in our school colors, maroon and white. The cheerleaders have helped to popularize the "tote" bag by making it part of their attire.

The Salesmanship Class operates the school store and gains practical experience in all phases of store retailing—purchasing, receiving, stock taking, marking, coding, advertising, as well as general selling. The net proceeds from the sale of all articles help to swell the Student Council Fund.

pep club

The Chelmsford High School Pep Club has played a most important role in the sports program of Chelmsford High School this year. Distinctive in white blouses, maroon and white corsages and white gloves, the Pep Club, responding in a rousing fashion to the cheerleaders, acted as a stimulating core of the cheering section both at football games and basketball games.

At the Tech Tourney, the girls added to their duties the valuable task of displaying cards which identified the player shooting for the basket.

A new point system for the club has been adopted whereby members can earn membership cards and letters. This helps to make membership in the Pep Club vital and important.

Much of the Pep Club's success is due to the able guidance of its advisor, Mrs. J. Francene Donahue.

In the past year our band has made great strides towards perfection in its many musical endeavors. Interesting half-time shows with catchy music and unusual formations, have entertained thousands of pleased spectators at our football games.

Last year at the annual spring concert, a record attendance augmented the band fund, which immediately helped towards new instruments, uniforms, and various other equipment. The exchange concert last year with Woodbury High School of Salem, N. H. was such a successful innovation that this year, in February, our band traveled to Dumont, N. J. for a similar performance. On March 23rd, Dumont High School band traveled here to complete the second half of the program. Highlights of the New Jersey trip included a visit to the newly-opened Lincoln Center to view a rehearsal conducted by Leonard Bernstein and to the U. N.

In reviewing the year's success, one will find many achievements, and one of the most outstanding is that of the band's president, Peter McHugh, who was chosen through competition to participate in the Northeastern District Concert.

All the accomplishments of the band could not have been achieved without Mr. Martin Enis, dedicated leader. Since Mr. Enis assumed responsibility for the band, he has inspired the members to attain greater heights as musicians and, under his leadership, the band has become a significant and meritorious organization.

This year's peppy twirlers were under the leadership of Barbara Kimball and Marilyn Davis. They performed most interesting routines on the football field and at the pep rallies.

Cheryl Schmelling, dressed in gold, was an asset to the squad this year with her acrobatics.

Mr. Martin D. Enis, our band director, inspired the twirlers with his many original ideas for different maneuvers on the field.

Barbara, Captain, and Marilyn, Drum Majorette, performed with the band during halftime of the football games.

As always, the twirlers marched in the Memorial Day parade to end the year's activities.

varsity choir

The Chelmsford High School Varsity Choir, directed by Mr. Rodney D. Jennings, has progressed quite rapidly in two years. Last year, the membership totaled nearly forty students and increased this year to seventy select mixed voices. With this larger group, new dimensions in vocalizing were attained with much stress placed on a cappella singing.

A major undertaking by the Vocal Music Department this year was the successful Christmas Choral Concert, featuring all the vocal music groups. The choir appeared for the first time in their newly-purchased robes, the first such set of gowns in the history of the department. Also, during the year, Varsity Choir participated in Vaudeville Varieties, various P.T.A. programs, open house and the Christmas Assembly.

This year, for the first time in recent years, the choir entered the Northeastern Massachusetts Competition Festival, held at Acton-Boxboro, in May. Along with Rock-a-my Soul, which was the required entry for the festival, they worked with a wide variety of songs during the past year, such as: Thou Wilt Keep Him; Michael, Row de Boat; O Divine Redeemer; Call to Remembrance; Song of Galilee; Gloria in Excelsis; and You'll Never Walk Alone.

The Vocal Music Guild represents the vocal music students in all sections. The Guild met several times a month to discuss activities and the current problems of the entire department.

The success of the musical presented last year, The Boy Friend, prompted Mr. Jennings to undertake this year's paramount musical—Rodgers and Hammerstein's Carousel. Many members of the choir were cast for principal roles and important minor parts and spent many hours preparing for the production.

Looking into the past year, it seems quite evident that Varsity Choir has completed another successful year of musical activities.

Mr. R. D. Jennings
Director

girls' glee club

The Girls' Glee Club of Chelmsford High School is the largest vocal group in the Vocal Music Department. This year, membership numbered nearly one hundred girls. The club contributed to the Christmas Choral Concert, assemblies, the C.T.A. and several P.T.A. programs during the year. Mr. Rodney D. Jennings, the director of the club, entered them in the Northeastern Massachusetts Competition Festival at Acton-Boxboro in May.

Many of the girls took part in the department's production of Carousel, the major musical undertaking of the year.

The members of the Girls' Glee Club were among those music students who traveled to Boston to view The Sound of Music.

Mr. Jennings inspired the girls to sing many selections with enthusiasm and interest. "Let There Be Music," "Walk Hand in Hand With Me," "Yellow Bird," "Scene and Prayer" from Cavellera Rusticana and "Green Cathedral."

Making real progress this year, the Girls' Glee Club has become a source of enjoyment for the members and a major part of the Vocal Music Department.

girls' double sextet and boys' octet

Two new groups in the Vocal Music Department this year, formed under the direction of Mr. Rodney D. Jennings, were Boys' Octet and Girls' Double Sextet. These two groups were designed for boys and girls who desire musical experience in singing with a small group of singers who possess similar ambitions and voice qualities. These groups concentrate on each individual voice, combined to blend in harmony.

Both ensembles participated in music functions during the past year. The Octet worked with "Kentucky Babe," "Linda Rose," "Winter Song," and "The Wiffenpoof Song." The Double Sextet sang "My Funny Valentine," "Moon River," "How Merrily We Live," "May Day Carol" and "One God."

Both groups were a success this year and an important addition to the Vocal Music Department.

Madrigals is a new a cappella group, consisting of sixteen mixed solo voices. Under the direction of Mr. R. D. Jennings, the Madrigal group has participated in assemblies, Vaudeville Varieties and the Christmas Choral Concert.

Derived from the medieval Latin word "matricle," madrigal is generally taken to include all the more or less specific forms of music composed during the Sixteenth and Seventeenth Centuries.

Eleven members of the group, plus a member of Varsity Choir, Adrith Phil, were chosen for the Northeastern Massachusetts Music Educators Concert at Wakefield last December. Four students from this group were selected for All-State tryouts: Barbara Mores, Scott Adams, Marty Jolin and Sue Haven. Barbara qualified and attended the All-State Concert at Springfield in March.

Singing most of their selections a cappella, Madrigals enjoyed working with such numbers as "Sweet Love Doth Now Invite," "The Silver Fountain," "Fair Maid," "Thy Charm and Loveliness," "Hallelujah Chorus," and numerous Bach Chorales.

In one year, this group of talented students has made good progress and should always remain one of the "highlites" of the Vocal Music Department.

The Chelmsford High School Cheerleaders for the '62-'63 season maintained their reputation for smart appearance and original performance.

Under the direction of Mrs. J. Francene Donahue and the Co-Captainship of Mary Ellen Goodwill and Vickie Whitcomb, our cheerleaders added that extra spark of enthusiasm to each sports event.

With the help of the Pep Club and our Lion, Sandy Whitcomb, the fall football season was twice as colorful and loud.

During basketball the girls formed two squads: one being captained by Vickie and the other by Mary Ellen.

As each graduating cheerleader looks back on her high school days, she will always have the fond memories of her first game, her many pep rallies, her Thanksgiving Day Game corsage, rides to the basketball games, cheering at Boston Garden, her last game; but, most of all, she will remember how proud she felt whenever she would say, "I am a CHELMSFORD HIGH Cheerleader."

SENIORS — Mary Ellen Goodwill, Co-Captain; Victoria Whitcomb, Co-Captain; Stephanie Wells; Sue Haven; Peggy Minko; Betty Arrants; and Sandy Whitcomb, Lion.

The 1962 football season opened auspiciously with a revengeful win over Tewksbury, 34-6. The following week, the Lions downed a new foe, St. Columbkille of Brighton, 27-0. The next team the Lions faced was Dracut, in what was billed as the Class C "game of the week." Dracut was said to possess the best line in the League, but Chelmsford beat them to the punch and, led by the mighty defensive unit, came out on top 13-0. Facing a weak Burlington team next, Chelmsford defeated them 39-0. Then came the crucial game with Wilmington, and the Lions, having a hard time to get started, suffered their first and last defeat of the season, 18-0. The defensive team did manage to keep the Wildcats' star halfback, Jack Bowen, from scoring.

Far from suffering a letdown, the Lions roared back the following week to down Canton, 27-0. The next week they mauled Methuen, 27-0, on our home field. At the next game with highly-rated North Andover, the Lions clawed their way to a 32-0 win. The traditional game with Billerica was played on a rainy Thanksgiving Day. Billerica refused to postpone the game, hoping that the adverse conditions would make it possible for them to win an upset victory. The Lions, undaunted by neither weather nor Billerica, fought hard to post a 27-0 victory. In this game, Bill Dawson, who had been booting the extra points for the Lions all season, kicked three to tie for the State Championship for extra points.

Under the outstanding leadership of Co-Captains Art House and Jeff Hazeltine, and the more than capable guidance of coaches Eck, Allen and Klesaris, the 1962 Lions posted one of the best seasons in the School's history.

Mrs. Nancy Edwardson
Varsity Coach

"Hey, watch those sticks!"

This cry brought us through that first practice and to the end of a very successful season, in which we not only beat every team once but also defeated the two-year champion Billerica team. Coached by Mrs. Nancy Edwardson and Miss Nancy Dean, and led by co-captains Barbara Montbleau and Shiela Welch, we experienced many unusual situations. Will we ever forget:

... the "frosty" weather at Westford and the outlandish costumes that resulted

... the after-season showers

... and finally, that mud, up to our knees, at Methuen; such interesting playing conditions!

boys' basketball team

The 1962-63 Chelmsford High School basketball team dropped an early season decision to Concord, then roared through twenty-one games, without defeat, to finish with twenty-three wins and one loss. During the Christmas vacation, the team journeyed to Berlin, New Hampshire, where they soundly defeated two New Hampshire teams, Gorham and Berlin.

On February twelfth, the Lions decided a strong North Andover team to secure the Lowell Suburban League title for the fourth year in succession. The team concluded league play unbeaten, and now Chelmsford owns a string of thirty-four straight league wins.

Due to their fine record, the Lions gained a berth in the Tech Tourney. They easily defeated and outclassed St. Clements of Somerville squad 85-50 in the first round. The second round found them rolling over Newton's Sacred Heart 41-16 and so qualifying to play in Boston Garden. In the semi-finals, the Lions whipped a strong Rockland team 70-46. The finals matched Chelmsford against the scrappy Plymouth Blue Eagles for the second year in a row. The Lions gained a 64-59 victory to capture the Eastern Massachusetts Class C Championship for the first time in twelve years.

The quality of Chelmsford ballplaying pointed out the excellent coaching of Mr. Henry P. McCarthy, who has done an outstanding job of teaching the boys basketball and sportsmanship.

All through the season, the Lions played outstanding ball and were acclaimed throughout the state. Led by the fabulous Hank Brown, they were one of the most formidable fives in the New England area. Brown, noted for his ability to "stuff" the ball, was hailed by many for both his tremendous defensive and offensive work. He was heralded as "Athlete of the Year" by the Lowell Sun and later was picked the "Athlete of the Week" by the Boston Herald for his Tech Tourney play.

Our congratulations to the coach and team for their double-championship year.

Best wishes for a successful season to Captain-elect Dick Molloy and next year's Lions.

girls' basketball team

"A winner never quits and a quitter never wins; let's fight!"

With this spirited yell, another Girls' Basketball season began. Despite blisters, sprained limbs and the flu, the girls, through the inspiration and leadership of Coach Nancy Edwardson and Co-Captains Bette Halbert and Cynthia Picken, closed the season with a good third place.

With the introduction of the "roving" player, the team had two "dog" tired players among their starters: Joanne Merrill, Joan Crane, Judy Crocker, Cynthia Picken, Bette Halbert and Louise Oczkowski.

For her patience, understanding and infectious enthusiasm, the team wishes to thank Coach Edwardson. For the team next year and their co-captains, Carol Enis and Joan Crane, the squad this year foretells a wonderful experience and great success.

The Junior Varsity also fought hard under the guidance of their coaches, Miss Patricia Sinko and Miss Judith Molinari, and co-captains Mary DeAngelis and Alice Long.

Under the leadership of co-captains Jim Doyle and Jean Tellier, and the adept coaching of Mr. David McPhelim and Mr. Charles Vars, the 1962 baseball team completed one of the most successful seasons recorded at Chelmsford High.

The season opened on a dismal note as the Lions bowed to Methuen 3-0, but the next week they roared right back to down Wilmington 9-1. They split the next four games, beating Burlington 3-0, bowing to North Andover 5-3 and Billerica 4-3, and defeating Tewksbury 6-4. The Lions then went on a scoring binge, clobbering Dracut 16-5 and Methuen 7-1 before losing to Wilmington 7-3. From this point on, the Lions went unbeaten, defeating Burlington 8-1, North Andover 12-0, Billerica 11-4 and Tewksbury 5-4. Then, in the last game of the regular season, the Lions pulled out a thriller, beating Dracut 6-5 in the 10th inning. This win clinched 2nd place in the Suburban League and qualified them for the Tech Tourney, where they faced a powerful foe in Woburn and were eliminated.

We, of the Yearbook staff, wish success to this year's team, captained by Tom Long, as they meet their 1963 opponents.

girls' softball team

We can give no results for the '63 softball season, since the yearbook went to press before the season began; but we would like to note that during the '62 season, under the direction of Miss Nancy Dean and Miss Hilaria Hartley, the girls continued their winning streak. For four consecutive years, Chelmsford's girls' softball team had remained undefeated. The sluggers of last year were: Martha Dupee, Joan Crane, Gail Garthe, Sue Humphrey, MaryEllen Goodwill, Carol Enis, Mary Halbert, Louise Oskowski. Kathy Cullinan was in control at the mound.

We are sure that this year's team has fought hard for the coveted fifth consecutive championship.

In 1962, Chelmsford High's track team finished second, not only in the highly-competitive Belmont relays, but also in the statewide Class C meet at Jamaica Plain. Chelmsford trackmen won two events at the state meet. High jumper, Hank Brown, who had previously broken his own Suburban League record, set a new state record for Class C and went on to place in the New England meet.

Chelmsford also won the Suburban title for the second time in three tries and, considering that the team lost only two seniors in 1963, we are likely to repeat our championship.

Under the guidance of a new coach, Mr. Edward Quinn, and led by Captain Jim O'Shaughnessy, our team has the opportunity this year of winning the State crown. Good luck to the team and coach!

Coach

cross country

Led by seniors Nip Johnson, Don Stavely, Jim Parker and Jim O'Shaughnessy, our cross-country team ran to its first Suburban League Championship. After meeting and defeating all our league rivals, including former defending champion Bilerica, the team clinched its title by winning the Suburban League meet at Wilmington.

At this meet, Jim O'Shaughnessy, even though running on a lengthened course, broke the league record for the two and one-half mile event.

Chelmsford's cross-country future looks bright as our J.V.'s also were Suburban Champs, with nine of the fastest ten runners in the league.

Congratulations to first-year coach, Mr. Edward Quinn, and the members of the team.

A look into the Art room will show that there's plenty of activity and much enthusiasm centered around this year's art program. We have talented seniors headed for art school, doing advanced work in ceramics, and freshmen trying their hands at blockprinting.

This year, the school was honored by having twenty-two pieces of art work exhibited at the Globe Scholastic Art Contest. Four students were gold key winners: Ron Upton, Ruth Monahan, Donna Sweet and Terry Upton. Of these, the latter three received blue ribbons, which qualifies them for the national competition in New York. Mr. Plummer allows full freedom of expression—a fact which has contributed greatly to the development of his students.

Seniors who contributed greatly to the art work of the Yearbook are Jane Fanning, Martin Jolin, James Pimental, Donna Sweet, Gary Mooers and Susan Humphrey.

Chelmsford's first musical comedy, The Boyfriend, was presented in the Spring of '62. This three act musical was directed by Mr. Rodney Jennings and sponsored by the Chelmsford High School Vocal Music Department. Mr. Malcolm Hamilton assisted Mr. Jennings by planning the choreography and Miss Nancy Dean supervised the costume committee.

A successful production was created by many hours and weeks of rehearsing. Previews, given to the students during the week before the show, helped to make both nights a sell-out. The time and effort sacrificed by each cast member resulted in delightful and finished performances by all.

This was a great challenge for Mr. Jennings and the Vocal Music Department. Much credit should be extended to the faculty who worked behind the scenes and to Mr. Jennings for the phenomenal success he created.
