in memoriam

to the americans
who have fought and died during the present vietnam war while in service to their country the 1960's represent a time of concern about the issue of rights. protests and demonstrations supporting the legality of civil, labor, and student rights have taken place from berkeley to boston. there are, however, certain types of rights that are innate and granted to every human being. because we have been students during this decade of awareness, we should recognize these rights as natural and inborn. among these rights is

right to
think
and
learn

right
to understanding
between
friends
nations

to
compete
in sports,
to strive
for a
goal,
to exercise
physical and mental activity

right to create

something practical
something earth-shattering something imaginative

right to express
emotions

make
others
laugh

right to ask
for
help and
understanding

right to argue
about
important matters

to
love

a special girl
a special boy
or
just a friend

right to speak
about important matters
to defend your rights

right to wonder
about what lies ahead

right to dream

... of all the good times, of all the bad times, in school, with your friends, with your teachers, with your parents... of graduation, of the christmas dance, of the prom... of high ideals, of going to new places, of doing new things... about how things were, about how things could have been, about how things might be...

year in song

hey, jude!

she's not there nurse's office people are strange and so are some teachers light my fire chem lab and boys basement dizzy after tumbling in gym sounds of silence history seminar hair on the way to the advisory board born to be wild the administration whiter shade of pale mr. klesaris in driver training sealed with a kiss morning bulletins little green apples for lunch you keep me hanging on waiting for replies from colleges harper valley pta chelmsford pta?
slip away to have a smoke working on a groovy thing senior term paper try a little tenderness mr. conrad love is blue and the hamburgers are green the games people play when the teacher is not looking midnight confession after school fun magic bus never on time revolution dress code revisions going up country on a ski trip living in shame in detention hall can't find the time to tell you so i'll write you a note time of the season when the snow was six feet deep those were the days when we had a spring vacation nothing but a heartache what the yearbook staff feels someday soon we'll be outta this place the impossible dream graduating

varsity football

chelmsford high has always been proud of its football squad, and this year was no exception. the team was sparked by the performances of captain bob howard, lineman ken carpenter, and back jim sink, and by the coaching of tom eck, david kerry, and gerald schrock. the chelmsford lions fought stubbornly for a standing in the merrimack valley conference and placed seventh. two of the most exciting games were the victories over methuen and north andover. the returning players, who will provide the nucleus of next year's team, look forward to a winning season.

basketball

after making the semi-finals of the state tech tourney last year, the lions under coach roger cummings faced an uphill task of rebuilding this year. returning lettermen were tom penny, bill ingalls, david nastasia and rick scharnberg. after a weak start, the team began to win and won 8 of their last 9 league games to finish third in the league with a 12 and 4 record and a chance in the state tournament for the third year in a row.

the leading scorer was team captain tom penny with a 13 point per game average. rick scharnberg led the team in rebounding, and fred george led the team in foul shooting with a 75% shooting average. bob rensaw and dave nastasia were the other two starters and performed well in the tense ball games. the team finished with a 12 and 6 record, their last loss coming at the hands of holy family in the state tournament. the outlook for next year is bright since only 3 players will be lost through graduation.

steve ralowicz—two miler

coach william christman proved a worthy successor to veteran coach edward quinn as he maintained the track team's winning tradition. competing at the phillip andover cages, the christman crusaders ran, threw, and jumped their way to a 6-3 record. the team also competed effectively in the state meet as they took 5th place. co-captains steve ralowicz and chris worth established themselves as mainstays of the team with steve ralowicz totaling 45 points in the two mile and chris worth amassing 60 points in the high jump and high hurdles. other substantial contributors to the team's success were senior miler mike thompson, senior 1,000 yarder mark finneral, senior 600 yarder warren cormier, junior 300 yarders randy keating and dan heitzman, and senior 50 yarder dick gargagliano.
