Foreword

The greatest refreshment for the older generation comes from the spirit of American youth. Exemplified by the characteristics of eagerness, frankness, ambition, initiative and faith, it is one of the uplifting factors of our lives. Without it we could well question the future. With it we must have the assurance of their spirit. We hope you will find in the following pages some indication of your past belief in our young people as well as some encouragement for the continuation of your faith.

Three
The chance to rise
To reach the skies
In any chosen field
Will come but once
I have been told—
They call it opportunity.

The work I choose
The plans I make
The dreams I cherish so
Will live or die
By my command
And the help of opportunity.

And if it comes to me but once
I shall not miss my chance.
My plans are made
My campaign laid—
I'm ready to advance.

I know the height
That's called success
Is only gained by knowing
The things to do,
And how, and when—
I've learned these things in growing.

Dedication

to

GEORGE R. KNIGHTLY

In appreciation of his wealth of humor, his spirit of friendliness, and the fine example of his sportsmanlike character, we, the Board of Editors, gratefully dedicate this book.
To the Students of Chelmsford High School:

Your town offers to you freely the opportunity for an education, yet it does not give you one. Your teachers cannot give it to you, nor can your parents, regardless of how long they keep you in school. All that can be given is the opportunity in appropriate surroundings, under skilled guidance, and with home and school encouragement for each one of you individually to educate himself. On your part there must be the active will to profit from what is offered; without such effort there is no education. It is as true today as in the days of Alexander that there is no royal road to learning.

The aims of education have changed with the times. Mere knowledge, whether of Latin or mathematics, science or language, is not now enough. In the crowded scenes of this intricate and shrunken world in which you live there is need as never before for social consciousness, for ability to get along with all sorts and conditions of men. Isolation is no longer possible. Frontiers are gone. The cloistered scholar who kept alive the world's store of learning in an earlier age is not the need of today, but rather the man of action who can work harmoniously with his fellow men, whether in laboratory, on in office, or in factory, or in any field of human endeavor.

We try in Chelmsford High School to give you the fullest opportunity to acquire useful knowledge. At the same time, in the classroom as well as on the athletic field, you have the opportunity to gain valuable experience in the team play so essential for success in modern life. Your attitude toward school, the manner in which you meet teachers and classmates, the extent to which you effectively cooperate with others—these are most important factors in the education you are giving yourself, fully as important as high marks. Self-education does not end with school days. Go out with an open mind, think problems through, endeavor to see both sides of a question, aim to be of service to the world, and you may then be assured of filling an honorable and a satisfying place in the life of your community.

Sincerely yours,

GEORGE S. WRIGHT
GEORGE S. WRIGHT
Superintendent of the Schools of Chelmsford
There is no frigate like a book
To take us lands away.
Nor any courses like a page
Of prancing poetry.

This traverse may the poorest take
Without oppress of toil;
How frugal is the chariot
That bears a human soul!

—Emily Dickinson

Education does not mean teaching people what they do not know. It means teaching them to behave as they do not behave. It is a painful, continual and difficult work to be done by kindness, by watching, by precept, and by praise, but above all—by example.

The Passion for Democracy

The passion for democracy
In ev’ry heart must planted be.
The dignity of human life,
Mid all the isms that are rife.
Must be supreme—no despot’s might
Shall dare our hopes, our pride to blight.

Let other lands pursue their course—
Tread down the rights of man by force,
Free speech curtail, vile hates instill,
Till hearts and minds with fear they fill.
America aloft will hold
The torch which makes man free and bold.

Long years ago our fathers fought
For human rights; the world was taught
That human personality
Must everywhere respected be.
Proclaim aloud our heritage—
For mind and spirit there’s no cage!

With fire and passion shalt thou teach
The freeman’s right of life and speech,
Till youth, with holy ardor fired,
With hearts aglow and minds inspired,
Shall hear again the clarion call
Of Justice, Liberty for all.

’Tis Education’s sacred task
To open minds—tear off the mask
Of foreign isms, which but cause
Destruction to our ways and laws.
Let ev’ry teacher’s motive be
A passion for democracy.

Fifteen
Our school days now have reached an end—
How swiftly they have flown!—
Those carefree days that we did spend,
The sweetest ever known.
Those halls re-echoed far and wide
With shout and laughter gay;
But now 'tis but a memory
That e'er with us will stay.

As on we journey through this life
O'er paths that lead afar,
"Our aim—success; our hope—to win"
Shall be our guiding star;
And though at times the path be steep
And dark the way, and drear,
We'll still press on to reach the goal
That is to all so clear.

To you, dear school, we owe much more
Than we can e'er repay,
But we can strive to keep alight
The torch of truth each day.
And so with courage and with pride
We'll hide each tear and sigh,
And bravely make our fond farewells
And say to you, "Goodbye."

A WORD of APPRECIATION to OUR PARENTS

As we, the members of the Class of 1938, go our different ways, may our first thoughts be of our parents. It has been through their efforts and self-denial that our Graduation from High School has been accomplished. By applying our best efforts in our particular form of endeavor, by always remembering their desire for our good behavior, we can make ourselves the men and women that they want us to be.

The Graduates of ’38.
In Memoriam

GEORGE ALBERT HAYDEN
Born: June 12, 1919
Died: December 7, 1935

After less than two years as a member of our class George passed away leaving a break in our ranks which has never been filled.

He possessed excellent athletic ability, a general disposition, and an admirable character which we, the Class of 1938, will remember always.

Thirty five
To the Class of 1938

Classmates, do you feel the way I do
Now that your high school days are through?
I know many older folks who Think school days are all too few
And wish that they were back in high
Well, dear classmates, not so I.

We first entered C.H.S.'s door
On that memorable day in '34,
Bet you remember Boosters' Day tour.
Ah, we'll never forget those days, nor
The days of study, gone forever more.

We're going on to a fuller life
With our share of happiness and strife.
We now must make our dreams come true
No matter what others say or do.
Just 'cause they failed, we mustn't too.

Hang on to your dreams, surprise the town
When out in the world we'll gain renown.
If earnestly we try, we're bound,
To rise in the world, not sink down.
Take, for instance, our able teachers.
In their lives, helping other features.

They were once the same as we now are
Dreams of the future, their guiding star.
They did their utmost to make them true
As you and I must try to do.— —
Folks are the same, only things are new.

Thelma Hansen '38
Testimonial to Mr. Dean

As the Class of 1938 leaves Chelmsford High this year so does one of our faculty, Mr. Warren C. Dean, who has been offered an Instructor's position at Northeastern University.

Although Mr. Dean's service here has been for three short years, we have come to know him as a competent teacher and counsellor. However, we regret to see him go but rejoice with him as he mounts higher in his chosen profession.

A TRIBUTE to the FACULTY of CHELMSFORD HIGH SCHOOL

This book is symbolic of the sympathetic understanding of those who have made our four years of high school most profitable and pleasant,—our teachers. Their principles will be the stepping stones of our future.
Undergraduates

There are two ways of attaining an important end—force and perseverance. Force falls to the lot only of the privileged few, but austere and sustained perseverance can be practiced by the most insignificant. Its silent power grows irresistible with time.

For Joy

For each and every joyful thing,
For twilight swallows on the wing,
For all that nest and all that sing,—

For fountains cool that laugh and leap,
For rivers running to the deep,
For happy, care-forgetting sleep,—

For stars that pierce the sombre dark,
For morn, awaking with the lark,
For life new-stirring 'neath the bark,—

For sunshine and the blessed rain,
For budding grove and blossomy lane,
For the sweet silence of the plain,—

For bounty springing from the sod,
For every step by beauty trod,—
For each dear gift of joy, thank God!
—Florence Earle Coates
Athletics

By George R. Knightly

Athletics is a term generally applied to a large variety of sports which are recognized as contests of physical skill, or are played for the purpose of developing physical strength.

Here at Chelmsford we narrow the contests down to three major sports. They are football, basketball, and basketball. The girls as well as boys take part in the latter.

Our teams play full schedules with schools of our own size. The Chelmsford High School Athletic Association equips and maintains these teams. By this we mean that the pupils themselves buy uniforms, purchase baseballs, bats, footballs, basketballs, hire officials, etc., and in addition pay for transportation costs to out-of-town games. The Athletic Association does not receive one cent of the Town of Chelmsford's school appropriation.

The athletic department hopes to carry on its schedule without curtailment but there is reason to fear for we have no enclosed field. Gate receipts at games, especially football, are not what they might be. In the past we have used coils of snow-fence which we borrowed from the town highway department. Although this has helped, it is far from being an adequate protection against gate-crashing. And there are always those who prefer to remain on the outside and look in without being taxed, provided they are tall enough to look over the top of a snow-fence four feet high.

The graduating class in 1935 left as a class gift the sum of $50 thereby opening an account called the Fence Fund. Classes which have followed have felt that the erection of a barrier around the field is too great for students alone. They feel outside assistance is necessary if we are to make this worthwhile effort become a reality.

Among our citizenry there may be those who would like to contribute all or part of the necessary funds for this proposed project. Perhaps there is a local organization or service club which would like to lend a helping hand.

There is doubt that one could think of an enterprise whereby so many boys and girls would derive as much real help as they could through a properly enclosed field. This would assure, not only the retention of athletics on our present scale, but an expansion of our program.

Please cooperate and help us keep abreast with the times by meeting the ever-increasing athletic demands of every modern progressive high school.
Sports
THE COACH SPEAKS

Football:
"Come on, you boys, and do your stuff!
Get on that field and treat 'em rough,
Smash that line and mow 'em down;
O.K., you boys, let's go to town!
And watch that back, he's smart and fast.
You've got to fight up to the last.
So help you Hannah, win that game.
Or things aren't going to run the same!
Oh boys, I'm glad that game's all done,
You all were rotten—everyone,
Afraid to rumple up your hair,
And thinking of the girls out there.

Basketball:
All right, you boys, shoot straight and high,
Just grab that ball and let it fly;
Don't get out there and act like ninny,
Forget the Helens, Janes, and Minnies.
I sure expected all those fouls,
And there you stand, agape like owls!
Why didn't you make that shot—yes, you,
One more like that and you're all through.
Just see that score—20-1
Now there's the ball—get on the floor.
For crying out loud, please use your head!
You'll lose that game just as I said.

Baseball:
There goes strike three—he missed the ball!
He's just plain dumb and that is all!
Hey, you! Wake up! You on first base,
It's just fourth inning—just in case
It might have slipped your feeble mind.
O.K. there, pitcher—start to wind;
Another out—oh, dearie me
Oh such a team—oh, gee, oh gee!
It's strikes and fouls all the time.
The game's not worth a measly dime.
Oh powers on high and heavenly graces,
Please make him get around those bases!"

***

Yet all this scolding works out fine
For all our teams are up in line
All good athletes and best of sports
Are turned on gridiron, field, and courts.
So—credit great and honor too,
For clever coaching, him is due.
For all his trouble and desperation
COACH sure deserves congratulation.
Football

The Chelmsford High football team kept right on winning games last fall. In 1936, you will remember, our maroon and blue cohorts lost only one game of a nine-game schedule. The pigskin warriors of 1937 won their first four games before tying a strong Johnson High team at North Andover 13-13.

After dropping a one-point decision to Manchester (Mass.) High School and being whipped by a superior Ashland High team, our boys played Howe. In a driving rain Capt. Matley and his men had to content themselves with a scoreless tie. Although Chelmsford threatened the Howe goal in the third period, a stubborn defense stopped our thrusts after penetrating the 15-yard line.

Captain George Matley handed over to Captain-elect Sam Stephens the duty of keeping Chelmsford High in the winning column next season.

Boys' Basketball

The Chelmsford teams do not whine and complain about defeat. They have always accepted the bitter with the sweet. Our basketball boys were turned back by the enemy on all but three occasions. There seems to be a reason.

Other schools have erected new buildings with high ceilings and unimpeded floors and our boys seem lost when they play away from home. If Chelmsford is to continue this sport on an even competitive basis with our rivals something should be done to find better playing facilities either at the school or in a hired building.

The team of 1937-38 was not without bright spots. Captain Ed. Fletcher was a star. He was second leading point scorer of the Lowell Suburban League. Roy Johnson and Ed Bettencourt had their brilliant moments as forwards. Charlie Hazel-tine, the Captain-elect, and Gordon Cochrane were the guards on the team who hope for a better season this coming winter.

Girls' Basketball

With but one veteran, Coach Beth Hoffman started the 1938 Girls' basketball season. Through her efficient and patient coaching, many "new" girls had experience which will benefit teams of the future.

In the guard court, Captain-elect, Cynthia Picken and Patricia McHugh ably assisted by a newcomer to the ranks, Elizabeth Dows, showed increasing skill in defensive playing.

Louise O'Brien and Gertrude Sullivan alternated as side-centers with Eleanor Pearson and Captain Ethna Hazeltine and Doris Lapham as centers.

The forward court consisting of Annie Clough, Josephine McDonough was considerably strengthened about midseason when Ethna Hazeltine was changed from center.

The team should be commended for their good sportsmanship and cooperation. This was shown by their determination to play to the best of their ability as each new game started.

Our sincere thanks go to students, parents, and friends who have helped the Board in making the largest organization in C. H. S., the Athletic Association, so successful.

The A. A. not only finances all teams but also urges them on when in action.

It is only just that we give to Mr. Watt, our adviser, the full credit due to him. Tirelessly, he has worked for the best interests of the A. A., and it is because of his spontaneous enthusiasm that the Association has been a real success this year.

Miss Hoffman and Mr. Knightly are to be congratulated on the good sportsmanship of their teams.

An important amendment passed this year increases monthly dues and enables non-participants in athletics to become members for periods of less than one year.

Among the many projects and activities of the Association this year, were the following:

Stationery Sale, Pencil Sale, Cake Sale, Search for Talent, and Stunt Night.

The winner of the Stunt night class skits was the Class of 1940. Honorable mention was given to Edward Berg and Leo Foley for their appearance on the Search for Talent program.

We had many enjoyable A. A. assemblies. One of the outstanding was the assembly featuring the Strong Man, Arthur Santell.

We congratulate the following members on earning awards in the various sports of the 1937-1938 season:

Baseball

Only three of last year's veterans were on hand to answer the call for baseball candidates this spring. A few others had been on the squad last year, but were lacking in experience. Despite this handicap, Coach Knightly has built up a fighting ball club. The boys have come along rapidly after a slow start, and exhibited potential winning power.

After dropping a heart-breaking game in the season's opener, and losing to the league leading Johnson outfit, the team came through with a 6-0 win over Howe. In this game Roy Johnson, ace of the pitching staff, entered that baseball hall of fame by hurling a no-hit, no-run game. This was the first performance of the sort registered while Coach Knightly has been here. The team then went on to win two of the next four games while losing two. Tewksbury and Punchard copped wins over Chelmsford, while the team gained victories over Wilmington and Lexington.

The 1938 team was captained by "Ed" Desaulnier, who, paired with "Del" Johnson at shortstop, made a flashy combination around second base. Don Grant at first base and Bob Chambers at third, rounded out the infield.

On the pitching roster were Roy Johnson, "Toffy" Narus, Joe Bomal, Jim Doole, "Mike" Cochrane, and Parker George. The catching duties were shared by Paul Beauregard and Art Greenwood.

The outfield was well taken care of by Ed Fletcher, Russ Butterfield and Robert DeKalb.

Brotherhood

The crest and crowning of all good,
Life's final star, is Brotherhood;
For it will bring again to earth
Her long-lost Poesy and Mirth;
Will send new light on every face,
A kingly power upon the race.
And till it comes, we men are slaves,
And travel downward to the dust of graves.

Come, clear the way, then, clear the way:
Blind creeds and kings have had their day.
Break the dead branches from the path:
Our hope is in the aftermath—
Our hope is in heroic men,
Star-led to build the world again.
To this event the ages ran:
Make way for Brotherhood—make way for Man!

It is only the constant exertion and working of our sensitive, intellectual, moral and physical machinery that keeps us from rusting and so becoming useless.

Some talented students of Chelmsford High School should certainly reach Hollywood. If they do most of their success will be due to the Dramatic Club and our adviser, Mr. Dean. Our club has been active during the year and its enjoyable meetings have always been looked forward to with eagerness.

A very interesting assembly performance was given which consisted of amusing sketches and recitations. Some members of the club took part in the Senior Play and displayed fine dramatic ability.

Debating Club

"Bigger and better than ever" is certainly the motto of the Debating Society for this year's program was the most extensive and successful since the inauguration of the group four years ago.

Over twenty club debates were held in which seventy-four members participated and an inter-class series was run off with the Junior team composed of Alyce Byron, William Short, and Priscilla Trubey defeating the Senior team of Anne Gorham, Kathleen Graham and Roy Johnson in the finals.

Public debates included the Mother's Club presentation by a group of Sophomores and the Westland P. T. A. debate by members of the varsity team.

The high spot was the first inter-scholastic debate with Johnson High which was won by the Affirmative team from Chelmsford in a clearly decisive manner. The winning debaters were Edward Desaulnier, Mary Kinch, Miriam Hindman, and Margaret Kerrigan.

The success of the club and the many advantages received by its members are a great credit to Mr. MacLaughlan, the adviser, who has worked untiringly to promote interests, enthusiasm, and skill in the art of debating.
The Romani Hodieri has enjoyed a most successful year, both educationally and socially. Under the careful supervision of Miss F. Christine Both, faculty adviser, the club has become larger, more interesting, and more influential than ever before. The Club meets the first Tuesday of every month and topics concerning Roman History are discussed and games are played. Great credit is due the Aediles by whose untiring efforts, varied and well-balanced programs have been presented. Let us hope for more of such progressive clubs and may the Romani Hodieri continue to draw more and more Latin students into its educational and entertaining circle.

Senior Play

"HUCKLEBERRY FINN—DETECTIVE"

Again the Senior play has attained another dramatic triumph!

Coached most efficiently by Miss F. Christine Booth and Miss Betty Hoffman of the faculty, "Huckleberry Finn—Detective" proved to be more than ordinary entertainment. Laughter! Suspense! Mystery! All were contained in this fine three-act comedy.

The cast, which was composed of selected Seniors, revealed amazing talent and zeal. Robert Burroughs as "Huckleberry Finn" exhibited unusual talent, while Winifred Paignon as lovable "Aunt Polly", captivated her audience with her "all a-titters". Ethna Hazeltine and Thelma Hansen, "Clara Wopfinger" and "Amy" respectively, caused much laughter in their humorous roles. Lena Genetti, as "Sunbeam Johnson" the colored maid, deserves credit for being able to remove the black warpaint and to discard that "Southern Accent". Richard Hines as "John Finn", made an excellent husband and father, while Dennis Sullivan as "Tom Sawyer", has attained fame for wearing his "outgrown" suit gracefully. John Coluchi was resplendent in his role of the Villain, "Sam Knowles", and Helen Stanewicz, who "got her man" (with handcuffs) was fine as "Ann Rand". Marguerite Ferron as Huck's beautiful sweetheart, "Mary Jane" did excellent work—even to the screaming.

The Senior play may be described fully in one word—Superb!

The Problems of American Democracy Club was reorganized after an absence of one year, succeeding the Student Council.

The purpose of the club is to put into practice the principles of citizenship and thereby prepare the individual to go in life with a better understanding of how to face modern problems.

The “Code of Ethics” which was drawn up by former P. A. D. clubs was adopted by this year’s club. It helped greatly in making the pupils at Chelmsford High School better citizens.

The Chemistry Club was organized several years ago by the pupils enrolled in the chemistry class. Under its charter, members are permitted the full use of the laboratory after school hours to perform experiments of a chemical nature. The most interesting of these experiments are repeated before the club members at regular meetings. Entertaining Chemistry programs, such as games, movies, and puzzles comprise the remainder of the schedule. The following is the list of members:

Orchestra

The High School Orchestra, under the most capable direction of Miss M. Marion Adams, played for the first time at Assembly, April thirteenth, receiving generous applause which was greatly appreciated. The Orchestra furnished music for the Senior Play and graduation, and on other various occasions. This group is fortunate in having many excellent players.

The Winding Trail

There is a trail a-winding,
    A trail for you and me,
A trail that leads forever
    Into eternity.

Sometimes it's deep and slip'ry
    And crooked as can be,
With sticks and stones and broken bones
    For those like you and me.

Sometimes it's long and narrow,
    A clean and righteous road,
And the folks who travel
    Ne'er carry any load.

Sometimes it's short and wide
    With deep and dark rich soil,
And sometimes hot and dusty
    Where those who tread must toil.

But all these paths do lead, my friends,
    To a deep and dark blue sea,
Where a ship with sails a-lingers
    Waiting for you and me.

'Tis the ships that are a-sailing
    Upon the sea of life
And those who would but reach the shore
    Must work and slave in strife.

And though we all must part, my friends,
    'Tis all to us quite clear
That tomorrow we'll dream of yesterday
    And of pleasant past school years.

ETHNA HAZELTINE '38

Seventy-one
Prophecy of 1938

On a warm afternoon in June, Snow White and her seven faithful friends, the Dwarfs, were seated in their garden singing and telling tales. Animals hovered about and birds were flying here and there. Suddenly a clatter of horses' hoofs was heard. A regal carriage came into view and then stopped at the garden gate. A youth descended from the carriage. It was the Prince. He walked up to where the group was sitting, dropped to his knees, and placed a beautiful ring in Snow White's hand.

"Put it on, put it on!" cried the Dwarfs in unison. As she did a mist enveloped the garden. They all seemed to be entering into an unknown land. Looking around, they saw a large sign which read,

"Welcome to Future Land"

Upon entering the village, they were met by Mayor Edwin "Beanie" Bettencourt who agreed to escort them about the town.

The first thing that caught their eye was a neon sign advertising "Cornwall's Dainty Doughnut Shop." They entered the shop and saw Bob Chambers vigorously jerking sodas. Vivacious Winfred Paignon, wife of the proprietor, acted as hostess. She directed them to a roomy booth.

"Tell us, Mr. Mayor," inquired Snow White, "what has become of your other Chelmsford High School classmates?"

"To be sure, my dear," Mayor Bettencourt responded puffing vigorously.

"Ed Desaulnier, the leading lawyer in the town, has decided to retire and write poetry. Howard Abrahamson is directing a band which has put Benny Goodman out of business.

In Norway Evelyn Burton is being hailed "Champion Figure Skater of the World." Modest "Ted" Grant is teaching a group of future skiers how to do the "Christiania."

Lena Genetti, in Holywood, is breaking all box office records. Hilda Jenkinson, sweet songstress, is stirring the hearts of opera fans.

Handsome "Gerry" Kennedy, Dennis Sullivan, now famous actors, and Robert Wallace, chemistry professor at Harvard, are on a flight to the stratosphere. "Ed" Fletcher is heavy-weight champion of the world, having defeated rugged "Al" Burton in a gate smashing world's record fight.

Charming Helen Staniewicz is head of the "Hollywood Hotel," assisting her are chubby Phyllis Stearns, and reserved Francis Mills.

Helen Cote is busy washing shirts and darning socks. The chansoning Gordon Sisters, dansapating Graham Sisters, and the delovely Eddy Sisters are now appearing in "The Big Broadcast of 1950" produced by the great genius, Robert Gray.

When the group had finished eating their tasty little snack, they departed from the shop and went on their journey. About one-half a block from where they had just eaten, they saw a huge building which caught their attention. Upon closer observation, they learned that it was a large department store owned by the great Roy Johnson. As they were passing by the front entrance, they saw Roy, himself, standing there with his two beautiful "blonde" children waiting for his wife (?) to arrive.

"Hello," said Snow White and her companions. "Good afternoon," answered Roy seeming rather disturbed. "I've been waiting a half hour
That's a shame," sighed Snow White, "but perhaps, since you live in the land where the class of '38 lives, you can give us a bit of information concerning those graduates while you're waiting."

"Certainly," replied Roy.

"Yesterday while lunching at "Russ" Butterfield's restaurant, I ran into Marguerite Ferron and "Bob" Burroughs who were leaving hurriedly so as not to be late for their matinee performance in "It's The Last Scene That Counts," coached by Warren Caton and George Clarke.

Muriel Clark is now an air hostess on a plane which is piloted by "Art"
Bachelor, who has hung up a fast and enviable record."

"Margaret "Barney" Kerrigan and Mary Kinch, who, by the way still enjoy riding in open cars, have opened a hairdresser's shop. "Millie" Mac-Laughlin and Evelyn Sturtevant have formed a "flying fingers duo," and appear nightly at the "Swallow's Nest" owned by George Swallow."

"Well, I guess that is all for now," continued Roy, "as I can see my wife coming. Good bye." They said "Adieu" and on they went.

It was now growing dusk and lights of the city were beginning to be lighted. As they were crossing the street, they noticed a large theatre owned by Creighton Hamilton. The names of those people in lights were none other than those of gorgeous Arlene Russell and adorable Jean Linstad. Standing all in uniform waiting for cars to drive up was handsome "Toffy" Narus. Seated at the box office were his faithful cashier's, Elizabeth Dows and Brenda Meloon.

Walking along the sidewalk they came to a small diner on wheels. On it there was a sign reading, "Get's Mom's Cookies Here," owned by the one and only "Ken" Cooke who was ably assisted by lovely Margaret Drake.
Suddenly a yellow roadster driven by Cynthia Speed, accompanied by Anna Baron came speeding down the street. Around a corner "Bob" Knapp and "Johnnie" Smith, husky and healthy farmers were valiantly attempting to control two excited farm horses. A screech of brakes was heard. A CRASH! What a commotion! People running and shrieking. Two burly men in brass buttons appeared, George Matley and John Coluchi.

"Order, order!" they shouted. At that instant an ambulance, driven by Paul LaPointe, arrived at the scene. Pretty Shirley Beaulieu, Marjorie Bumps, and Rachel Knight, clad in white, got out to assist Dr. Sterling R.
Wallis, who was examining the patients. Reporter Manuel Sousa came hurrying up, asking all sorts of questions and talking about getting a raise after all. No one seemed to be badly injured and the crowd dispersed.

Tired from their long journey, our friends decided to spend the night at Miss Stanchfield's Hotel. They entered and were surprised to see titan tressed Irene Jones sitting on a high stool at the registry desk. Snappy Clifford Firth, head bell-boy, led them to their rooms. He told them that "Babs" Scobie, wife of a millionaire, was spending a week in town. He said that she was accompanied by her personal companion, Anne Gorham, and that master of the violin, "Sam" Panessiti.

After resting a few hours, they went downstaire to see the floor-show.
As they passed by a conspicuous table, they heard two prime schoolmarmms, Eva Kelley and Vivien Todd moaning, "Teaching first grade is driving me nuts," and "You're telling me." The lights were dimmed and the show started. Imagine their surprise when beautiful Barbara Grant, dressed in silver, walked on to the platform and sang "Thanks for the Memories of
C. H. S.” so sweetly that even stern Richard Hines, an Arctic explorer, shed a few tears. Ethna Hazeltine was still doing eccentric dances and Miriam Hindman, yodeling cowgirl, was wonderful. The program came to a close with the announcement by exotic Thelma Hansen that everyone was invited to a large dinner party held on her palatial yacht and that she requested the presence of Mayor Bettencourt and his friends especially.

Mr. Mayor and our friends were greatly pleased and arranged to attend after he had called up his wife to ask if it was all right with her. Nautical Ralph Wood piloted them out to the yacht. When they entered the drawing room, they were astounded to see three famous society women; namely, Countess Mary Niemaszyk, Duchess Julia Origent, and Lady Albertine Tremblay looking about through their lorgnettes. Pugnacious Ruth Harvey and Bernice “Bunny” Donohue were arguing about who “got the best man.” Mary Driscoll and Gertrude Sullivan were (still) talking about their operations and their trips around the world as guests of the President. Someone was reading stories aloud from a book, “How to Keep that Schoolboy’s Complexion,” written by Johnnie McGeown.

After a very substantial dinner, which was served by the efficient Carmela Oliver and gracious Rosa Mello, Snow White, the Prince, and the Dwarfs returned to the hotel and fell asleep with their strains of “Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgot” ringing in their ears.

TIME MARCHES ON:

See them now, and look again,
They’re the Seniors, only then;
Great the changes time has wrought
Now men and women it has brought.
MISCELLANEOUS SNAPSHOTS

How sweet the joys of school life
Reflected here and there
In hall and room and campus;
Free souls without a care.
LA S T LOOK AT 1938

Behold the vogues of '38,
Contraptions of our day and age!
So, when gray your hair or bald your pate,
Look back upon this modern page.
When You Are Old

When you are old and gray and full of sleep,
And nodding by the fire, take down this book,
And slowly read and dream of the soft look
Your eyes had once, and of their shadows deep;

How many loved your moments of glad grace,
And loved your beauty with love false or true;
But one man loved the pilgrim soul in you,
And loved the sorrows of your changing face.

And bending down beside the glowing bars
Murmur, a little sadly, how love fled
And paced upon the mountains overhead
And hid his face amid a crowd of stars.
